DIRIGIBLES AID IN U-BOAT WAR

Play Important Part In Their Destructoan Thru Dropping Bombs.

(By Robert S. Doman.)

A Port In France, June 18 (by mail)—Forty-five thousand American soldiers debarked here within three days. Far off the coast the escorting American, British and French destroyers were met by French and American aeroplanes and dirigibles.

The mosquito fleets of three nations buzzed about, destroyers, converted yachts, submarines and small craft of all sort. No one had a klud word to say for the dirigibles, although the part they have played and are playing in protecting the incoming American host is an important one.

Within the week one of the French dirigibles flying with an escort of American hydro-aeroplanes dropped a bomb on a German submarine. The feat was nothing unusual. During 1917 French dirigibles had nearly a score of encounters with enemy submarines.

Bombs Are Effective.

On six occasions the submarines discovered the dirigibles in time to escape, but on the other occasions the launching of bombs on the submarine took place under circumstances leaving little doubt as to their fate.

On two occasions the submarines employed their guns against the dirigibles, but their experience was disastrous, the dirigibles virtually blowing them out of the water with a shower of heavy bombs and depth charges.

The submarines are mortally afraid of the dirigibles, for the latter can spot them at great depths and have an annoying habit of hovering for hours over the spot where the submarines are resting on the bottom in supposed security.

When the U-boat rises its end comes quickly. The submarine's only protection is to submerge to a great depth and then to make off at slow speed.

Act As Convoys.

The dirigibles are not so fleet as the hydro-aeroplanes, but then neither are their convoys. The slow-steaming merchant vessels plod patiently along under the dirigibles, which lead them unerringly through mine fields and instantly signal the presence of submarines or the launching of torpedoes, signaling in such a manner that the merchant ships can out maneuver the torpedo.

Marine dirigibles as a defensive arm of the French navy did not exist at the outbreak of war, although $6,000,000 had been appropriated for their construction.

In January, 1916, the French navy began using its dirigibles at first in the North Sea and the English channel, and, in July, in the Mediterranean. During 1917 and the first five months of 1918 both the number of dirigibles and their personnel were tremendously increased.—Louisville Herald.

When you buy a range that has proved itself to be the best, your money has been well invested. The MAJESTIC DEMONSTRATION will, during the week commencing July 22nd, show you why the MAJESTIC is the best, and why it actually saves you money.

NEW PENSION LAW.

An act of June 10, 1918 amends the pension laws as follows:

Those who are 72 years of age, or over, and who served six months, are entitled to receive $32 per month; Those who served one year, $35 per month; one and one half years, $38 per month; and two years and over, $40 per month. These increases will be granted automatically, and without application of any kind to the Pension Bureau, to all soldiers and sailors now pensioned under the act of May 11, 1912, who have attained the required age and served the necessary length of time.

Soldiers and sailors who served during the Civil War, and are pensioned at lower rates under some other law, but who are entitled to pension under the act of May 11, 1912, will be required to file an application under that act in order to receive the benefits of the new law.

Soldiers drawing pensions under the act of May 11, 1912 should not burden the pension department with letters of inquiry. Their increases will be received just as soon as the new schedule can be worked out. Those drawing under any other law should file application with the Bureau of Pensions at Washington, for the increased allowance.

K. S. U. APPOINTMENTS HELD TO BE UNLAWFUL

Superintendent E. S. Howard, has received a communication from the Kentucky State University Authorities in which it is stated that the law granting appointments of students from the various counties to the university had been declared unconstitutional and that in the future no students would be given this privilege.

The examination of applicants for scholarships, which was to have taken place July 27th will therefore, not be held.

TAX ELECTION OFF.

There will be no road tax election held with the primary, August 3. Some time ago the Fiscal court entered an order calling an election for that date, but through an oversight of the sheriff it was not advertised, as the law requires, and the result will be no election on that date.

Like woman suffrage and national prohibition, the road tax will come, and why not now?

BRITISH BAG 3,856 HUN PLANES IN YEAR

Ammy In France Gets 3,233 While Navy Airmen Scoop 623.

London, July 13.—In one year on the British Western front the royal air force has accounted for 3,233 enemy airplanes. In the same period the naval airmen shot down 623, a total of 3,856. An official statement dealing with these operations says: "The royal air force during the year beginning July 1, 1917, on the British Western front, destroyed 2,150 hostile machines and drove down out of control 1,083. In the same period the air force units, working in conjunction with the navy, shot down 623 hostile machines.

"During this period 1,094 of our machines were missing; 92 of these were working with the navy.

"On the Italian front, from April to June, 1918, the British destroyed 165 hostile machines and drove down 6 out of control. Thirteen of ours were missing.

"On the Slonki front, between January and June, 21 hostile machines were destroyed and 13 were driven down out of control. Four of ours were lost.

"From March to June, in Egypt and Palestine, 26 hostile airplanes were destroyed, and 15 were driven down out of control. Ten of ours were missing.

"In all the theaters of the war the British air superiority and strength progressed rapidly and continuously. From this it is safe to assume that when the new factor of America's output, both aircraft and personnel, enters the situation in the fighting zones, the aerial ascendancy of the allies should give them very great advantages."

ALLIES' PLANES MAY TERMINATE WAR SOON

London, July 13.—The Evening News prints an editorial on its first page to-night commenting upon the allies' supremacy in the air, which, the paper says, should enable the allies to duplicate the German trick of finding a weak spot in the enemy's front.

"There are symptoms," says the Evening News, "such as the Austrian defeat, the delay in the resumption of the Paris offensive, and the tone of the Reichstag debate, which suggest that a strong blow at Germany's weak place at this juncture might precipitate the end. Germany's weakness in the air is our opportunity.

A SHATTERED DREAM.

Among the many German dreams of Imperial domination of the earth that have been shattered by events, perhaps the most disappointing is the failure of the U-boat campaign. When the under-sea craft was determined upon as a sure and speedy means of snatching victory from the allies the German military did not act with precipitant haste. It counted the cost. It knew the campaign would bring neutral nations, including the United States, into the war, but it expected to have the war end before effective help could come to the allies from the western Republic. It was to be a master stroke that would drive in terror the allied ships from the seas, and paralyze the movement of food supplies to England and France. Now that the submarines are at the bottom of the sea or guarded from approaching transport and cargo ships, by swarms of allied destroyers, and America has sent more than a million of men to France without the loss of a single loaded transport, Germany no doubt rues the day she tempted the wrath of all the then neutral nations with the now abortive submarine. History will record the German U-boat campaign as the cardinal blunder of the Kaisers war.

MASON WITHDRAWS FROM THE RACE

Gives Haswell Free Track For Congressional Primary.

In an open letter addressed to the editor of this paper Mr. I. S. Mason announces his withdrawal from the race for congress. Mr. Mason is well-known and his many friends throughout the district, but for reasons stated withdraws.

Beaver Dam, Ky., July 15, 1918.

Mr. J. H. Thomas,
Hartford, Ky.

Dear Friend.—Since announcing for the Republican nomination for congress I have had an interview and correspondence with my opponent for the nomination, Hon. John P. Haswell, Jr., who announced since I did. Judge Haswell claims that the Fourth District Congressional Committee, of which he is chairman, had, previously to my entering the race, unanimously insisted and obligated him to make the race, and that under no condition could he withdraw.

I have an ambition to go to congress, and believe that I could help in the reconstruction of our governmental affairs after we enter the New Epoch in History following the close of the war. But the war is not ended, and the paramount duty of every true American is to help win it and win it NOW.

I do not wish to disturb the minds of the people in our district over the question of the personal claims of myself or Judge Haswell to the nomination at this critical period of the world war. He will not, but I will withdraw, and to the many friends who have so kindly encouraged my candidacy and to those who have favored Judge Haswell, I thank them, and urgently request that they stand by the principles of the Republican party and support its nominees because the party has always been true when Liberty, the Flag or the Constitution was in danger.

Very truly,

I. S. MASON.

HALED INTO COURT.

Leroy Tichenor, a well-known citizen of Rockport, was in Judge Cook's court Monday on a charge of violating the thirty six hours a week work law. Tichenor is well-known as a correspondent of the Louisville and Owensboro papers, and has written for this paper. The inquiry, as reported to us, showed Tichenor has no fixed employment except the making and development of Kodak pictures. By order of the court he will report the first of August the facts of his employment in the meantime. The court did not direct the particular character of employment Tichenor must engage in, but he will be required to satisfy the court that it has been useful and productive. The court was of the opinion that making and developing Kodak pictures would not materially contribute toward winning the war.

Mrs. Jones says that she does not know how she has got along so long without the MAJESTIC. She is delighted with it. If you are dissatisfied with your present range come to the SPECIAL DEMONSTRATION during the week commencing July 22nd, and the expert from the MAJESTIC factory will tell you why the MAJESTIC gives such genuine satisfaction.

AMERICAN SPURNED OFFER OF KINGSHIP

Took Honest Toil Rather Than Royal Gift From Kaiser Bill.

San Francisco, July 13.—He might have been a king.

But he prefers being an American workman.

What would you have done with Peter Sobieski's chance at royalty and all the pomp, glory and glittering circumstances it implies?

The world is full of men seeking titles and crowns—though Wilhelm has done much to make the pursuit unpopular.

How many would refuse a diadem? Sobieski was offered the crown of Poland.

Lineal heir to the throne, he has been discovered living in Oakland, Cal., in an humble home earning his bread by the sweat of his own brow, two years after having been invited by the German Kaiser to become monarch of the Poles.

"I'd rather shovel coal in America," said the man who wouldn't be king, "than be an emperor of Europe."

After re-establishing the Polish kingdom as a German vassal state, the Kaiser proffered the throne to John Sobieski, uncle of Peter. In 1916, according to the Americanized nephew.

The elder Sobieski, 86, refused the throne on account of his age and forwarded the offer to Peter after having ascertained that this would be acceptable to the Hohenzollern.

Peter J. Sobieski, of Oakland, Cal., poor, toiling for a daily wage and living in a modest flat with his wife and 3-year-old son, snapped his fingers in disdain at the glittering tender.

"I would rather," he explained, "live in poverty in the United States than reign over unhappy Poland, my native country, under the Kaiser's sway."

"I prefer honor with poverty to a kingdom with dishonor."

The first Polish legion has just entered the front line in France with the allies. Poland is with the champions of liberty and democracy, soul and body and all that is left of her.

"To be a king, in these days when enlightened nations are battling for everything that stands opposed to autocracy, seems to me about the most sordid and dangerous ambition to which a man could own."

"But," he was asked, "when the war is over, and Germany has been conquered? When Poland is a free and separate country again? Do you propose then to claim the kingdom that may be yours?"

"I have already answered," he replied without hesitation.

"I do not want the crown. It is my right if I wanted to claim it, but I am too democratic. I prefer my independence here."

"I want Poland to be a great, free republic like America."

Before coming to Oakland, Sobieski's adventurous career included the life of a locomotive engineer, a farmer in Canada, a hunter and trapper in the Northern wilds, a United States marine, a Russian army officer and an exiled political prisoner in Siberia.

Born in Uman, Ukraine, he was educated at Kiev, Germany, in carrying out preliminary war intrigues, had papers of a revolutionary character planted in his home where they were seized by Russians under the autocracy. Sobieski was condemned to serve fifteen years at hard labor in Siberia, but escaped after two years' confinement, walking 3,000 miles through Siberia, China and Manchuria, and thence making his way through Japan to the United States.

Sobieski's life has been hard.

It might have been easy with the luxuries of royalty.

What would you have done?

Peter Sobieski's decision is an impressive tribute to the personal benefits and privileges of American democracy.

Do they mean as much to you as they do to the man who wouldn't surrender them for a kingdom?"

CORN CLUB DID IT.

Mr. John Wilson, of near Olaton, has just harvested four tons of clover hay from two acres of ground, and the corn club is entitled to the credit for it. No, the corn club doesn't give special attention to growing clover, but because Mr. Wilson's boy was a member of the corn club and made this particular two acres of ground very rich two years ago in competing with the other boys in corn growing the big yield of hay was harvested this year.

Mr. Wilson's boy was also a member of the Boys' Pig Club, and through his efforts in interesting his father in pig culture, Mr. Wilson sold a few days ago nine pigs that were only seven months old, for $298.92. The boys' Corn and Pig clubs may be, as in this case, a sort of casting bread upon the waters to be gathered many days hence.

SCHOOLS HIT HARD; TEACHERS IN PANIC

Per Capita Disappointing And Teachers May Balk.

Superintendent Howard advises us that the school per capita this year is only $5.25. This is a grave disappointment to the teachers, since with the reduction of the number of pupils resulting from a change of the maximum school age from twenty to eighteen it was expected the per capita would be near $7.00.

Under the law teachers of first class schools must be paid a salary of not less than $50 a month and those of second class not less than $45. There are forty four of these in the county. Schools having less than fifty pupils are termed emergency schools, and there are eighty two of these. There are a thousand less pupils of the common schools in the county this year than last, and with the per capita $5.19 last year and only $5.25 this year it will be seen the money for teachers' salaries is reduced by about $5,000.

If the school money for this year were equally distributed among the 140 teachers the monthly salary would be only $39 a month, and when the teachers of the forty four schools are paid at $50 and $45 dollars a month, the money remaining for the payment of the teachers of the remaining eighty two schools will be so inadequate that the Superintendent fears many of the smaller schools may not be able to secure teachers. It is a deplorable condition, and one difficult to account for.

To get a handsome set of kitchenware absolutely free if you buy a MAJESTIC range next week, is an offer worth investigating. Visit our special demonstration during the week commencing July 22nd, and we will show you this fine ware which is an out-and-out gift.

WAIT FOR LORD TO ORDER CUTTING HEARD

Cattlesburg, Ky., July 13.—Waiting for the Lord to tell him to remove his long whiskers—which he says he will not remove until so ordered—Claro Dixon, a holy roller preacher, has been jailed here on charges of seditious statements relative to the war. He is alleged to have preached that it is wicked to fight, and that to resist the draft is right, basing all his assertions on the Bible.

He refuses to accept bond, asserting that he is glad to have an opportunity to suffer as did the disciples of old.

SMOKES AND CHEWS MAY BE RATIONED

War Board Finds Supply Small, Production Below Demand.

Washington, July 14.—Government control of the tobacco industry of the United States may result from the heavy requirement of the allies and the American military forces abroad. Rationing of the American population is believed to be a possibility.

The War Industries Board announced to-day that it has been conducting an investigation to determine the requirements abroad and the amount that must be conserved in this country to meet the situation. It estimates that approximately two-thirds of the leaf tobacco raised in this country in 1917 will be available for American manufacturers. Out of this must come cigarette and pipe tobacco for troops not yet overseas and exports of manufactured tobacco, in addition to cigarettes and tobacco purchased here for Belgium.

Board Makes Estimate.

The crop in 1917 was 1,196,000,000 pounds and of this the board estimates that 850,000,000 pounds will be available this year for United States manufacturers, while 346,000,000 pounds of leaf will be available for export to the allies.

Tobacco issued to the military forces of England, France and Italy amounts to approximately 156,000,000 pounds a year, the board said. England and France each allot 40 per cent of their entire consumption to the army and navy, while Italy allows her military forces 45 per cent. The total yearly consumption of the entire populations of these countries, the board estimates at 387,000,000 pounds, or 41,000,000 more than this country is able to export.

Soldiers Take Half.

Persons who point to possible government control in order to assure tobacco for the allies and American forces declared that it is more than probable that with the allied armies consuming between 40 and 45 per cent of the total consumption in allied countries, American forces would use more than 50 per cent of the total amount used in the United States.

The War Industries Board quotes the annual per capita consumption of the United States and the allies as follows:

Italy, two pounds; France three and a half pounds; Great Britain, four pounds, and the United States seven and a half pounds.

England, France and Italy are now chiefly dependent on imports from the United States, as their imports from other tobacco growing countries have been materially reduced through lack of shipping and inability to import from Turkey and Bulgaria.

TAX COMMISSIONER BUSY.

Tax Commissioner Ward is kept busy assessing the property of the taxpayers who visit his office. Mr. Ward is thoroughly informed about the provisions and requirements of the new tax law, and is making an earnest and honest effort to faithfully carry out its provisions. The State Tax commission is thoroughly in earnest about bringing the assessment of the property of the state up to eighty five per cent of its sale value, and where the county commissioner does not perform this duty the state commission will do it by raising the assessment. When the taxpayer is shown that his neighbor is listing his property at the required per cent of its actual value commissioner Ward is finding little difficulty in getting him to so list his own. The old system of haphazard assessment is giving way under the new system of order and uniformity, and the burden of taxation will be more equitably distributed than ever before in the state's history.

During the week commencing July 22nd, a handsome set of cooking utensils will be given away free to every purchaser of a MAJESTIC range. This is an out-and-out gift and the price of the MAJESTIC remains the same as always. When you are at the demonstration next week.

FRIDAY, JULY 19

A blind man driving on a public highway can tell when he is in a progressive community.

The editor of this paper pleads guilty to some taste for wine, but he was never yet drunk enough to attend a carnival dance.

The Hustler reports a Madisonville hostess as giving a bacon fry to her Texas guest. Do they really have a millionaire in the Hopkins capital?

We will gamble three pounds of sliced ham, butcher shop price, against a yard of baby ribbon that the per capita school money next year is higher than it is this year.

Seven men were arraigned at one time in police court at Norton's Gap Saturday for failing to work their apportioned 36 hours a week. How do our Ohio county loafers escape?

When the American colonies were struggling for their freedom from the mother country France sent an army to our rescue. Now after a hundred and forty years, when France is bled
white by the German lance we repay the century old debt by sending a great army to France.

Let us not forget that one million of our own dear American boys are in a strange land, three thousand miles from home, facing the Hun's engines of death, and must be armed and clothed and fed. Let us think of nothing as a sacrifice that they need.
Save flour and sugar and buy bonds
and Thrift and War Savings Stamps.

The people are paying school tax on a larger assessed valuation of property, the maximum school age has been lowered from 20 to 18 years and still the per capita school fund is only $5.25. It looks very much like an effort on the part of the state administration to rob the school fund this year in order to make a big showing next year when the election
for state officers occurs.

We find no pleasure in saying it,
but we are becoming a nation of profiteers rather than a nation of patriots. From the cross roads grocery to the billion dollar factory profit-taking is a mania. Conscience has little place in price fixing. It is only a question of what the trade will stand. Everybody is getting while the getting is good. There is only one remedy for this condition, and that is for the government to fix the price of everything, from a paper of pins to a car load of diamonds.

Because we ventured to say that hand knitting for the soldiers was a waste of yarn and time some of our good lady friends of the Red Cross have taken umbrage. We are sorry.
We would heap honor upon the head of every good woman who undertakes a work of mercy for our soldier boys. It is the intention that counts, and the loyal soldiers will bless the fired fingers that knit the socks or sweaters that he will never wear, but in saying the knitting was a waste of both yarn and energy we were in so good a company as the literary biggest, the greatest periodical in America.

Because of our suggestion last week that hand knitting for the soldiers by the Red Cross ladies was good intention misdirected the Hartford Herald undertakes to assume our disapproval of Red Cross work. The Herald might tell it to the madmen, but such rot will not go in Hartford. The Herald has devoted columns to the Herald's inches of Red Cross space.
While the Red Cross ladies were working at their rooms we went to them weekly for news, and no issue of this paper appeared without its Red Cross column. This criticism comes with poor grace from a newspaper that has given such a trilling support to the cause it now assumes to champion.

We will soon have the liquor business wiped out, and will then go after tobacco. The anti-tobacco campaign should not take us long, and besides we could agitate some other reform along with it as a side line, and we suggest neckties. Few human extravagances are so wholly inexcusable as the use of neckties. Millions of perfectly good dollars that could be used for buying bread for the poor or sending missionaries to heathen lands, are annually wasted on neckties. Valuable cloth and the richest of dyes are wasted for no better purpose than to adorn the necks of men. Goggles for women are pardonable; it is a part of their charm, but mere man has no moral right to waste the nation's substance on his personal adornment. The necktie must go.

In an hour of Republican division
the Hon. J. Ham Lewis, of Illinois, broke into the United States senate.
J. Ham is a candidate for reelection but his candidacy is handicapped by a hundred thousand Republican majority and his pink whiskers. In fact J. Ham's chief notoriety comes of the peculiar shade of his whiskers. But whiskers will probably be his downfall. They have made him ridiculous as well as notorious. No public man can live against ridicule, however innocent. The funny paragraphs blight many a promising statesman. Twenty cents at 2111

Riley's barber shop would relieve J.
Ham of ridicule, but he would rather suffer defeat for the senatorship than part with the whiskers that have made him famous. May be he thinks he is like Sampson; that his political strength is in his hair.

Because German domination would crush to chaos all that we as a people trained to freedom, hold dear, our first purpose must be to win the war. But in the meantime we must lay a solid foundation for our moral and economic existence after the war is ended. One of the gravest dangers that confronts us, and it is one that attends all great wars of long duration, is a lowering of the moral standards. The moral standard is the measure of a nation's greatness.
Wealth wasted may be regained, men killed in battle may be restored by time, but a descending scale of morals is an irreparable calamity. Even a defensive war whets the human appetite to destroy and heats the human appetite for blood. Hate is inseparable from the overt of war, and however necessary, it is a passion at variance with that finer fiber of society that lies as the foundation stone of morals. The evil tendency of war should be fitly recognized, and every possible effort be made to abort its baneful influence on the morals of the nation.

KIMBALL'S CHANCE.

The Hon. Press Kimball, of Lexington, gives out a letter of withdrawal from the race against Ollie James, that has a sting to it. Mr. Kimball says he is in the race only for the purpose of having the nomination made by the people at the polls, and not by the committee, as would happen if there were but one candidate.
He says his name will appear on the ballot, but that he is loyally supporting James and requests all other good Democrats to do likewise. Kimball's position looks indelicate, but there might be another side to it.
Senator James is a very sick man,
and is confined in the John Hopkins Hospital. If James lives Kimball's act in calling on his friends to support the Senator looks generous, and then should James die before the primary Kimball would be certain of the nomination. It looks a bit like the Fayette statesman might be unconsciously flirting with death.

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

Mrs. W. L. Mills, who is superintending establishing Moonlight schools in Ohio county, for the purpose of teaching adult illiterates how to read and write, is progressing nicely with her work. Mrs. Mills has secured a list of the illiterates on the draft list and will give her first attention to teach these boys elementary reading and writing before they embark for France.

This campaign for stamping out illiteracy in Kentucky is a movement that should have the hearty co-operation of every citizen of the country, and we especially appeal to the illiterates themselves to take advantage of this splendid opportunity to attend the night schools and release themselves from the bondage of illiteracy.

The teaching is free to all and books will be supplied to those unable to buy them. We appeal to those more favored in the matter of education to seek out the illiterates in your neighborhood and urge them to attend the night schools. Many of them may feel timid about the matter, but give them encouragement, and show them
the advantage to be gained, both for their own pleasure and convenience
and for the good name of the state.
The schools will open soon, and if every citizen will do his duty there will not be a man or woman left in Ohio county who can not read or write, when the campaign closes
October 1.

Great Majestic Range Bargain Week

SPECIAL DEMONSTRATION AND BARGAIN SALE OF

Majestic Ranges

At Our Store—One Week Only

JULY 22 TO 27

To Be Truly Economical There Should
Be a Majestic in Your Kitchen

Economy is not merely spending the least money—buying a range at too low a price is indeed false economy.

The first cost is not the only cost—the little additional first cost of a Majestic is nothing compared with its economy of fuel, durability and satisfactory service.

Nearly a million Majestic Ranges, now economically, scientifically and satisfactorily serving millions and millions of people, civilian and soldiers, is proof positive of their superiority over all others.

There is only one best. The public has judged. The Majestic is recognized as the standard of all ranges. The construction, material, workmanship and beauty of this wonderful range is unequalled, and it embodies important features possessed by no other range.

Your Opportunity is Here---

At our store—during our Majestic Bargain Week. It's your chance to get acquainted with real facts about ranges.
We assure you it will be worth your while to investigate.

The Bargain

—AND IT'S WELL WORTH
YOUR WHILE!

Through special arrangements with the manufacturers, and during this Bargain Week only,
a beautiful, useful and substantial set of Cooking Ware will be given with every Majestic Range sold. This ware is good ware (not cheap ware)—it's worth a lot to you. Come and see for yourself.

And Remember---

The price of a Majestic Range this week will not be increased, and there will hardly be a great reduction for years to come, if ever, but there may be an increase soon.

Two New And Important Features

THE WONDERFUL UNSEEN RIVETING

Yes, it's rivet-tight, just like the old Majestic, but the rivets elinech inside of niekeled parts, leaving nickel smooth as glass, and there are no big, bulky bolt-heads on the inside. And remember, rivets hold tight; bolts with only one or two threads holding are bound to work loose and cause no end of trouble. The Majestic is smooth inside and outside—it's a striking beauty—more than skin deep.

If you haven't a MAJESTIC, avail yourself of this opportunity to get acquainted with this wonderful range—know the inside of ranges.

OH JOY! TOP NEEDS NO BLACKING

A smoothe, highly polished cooking top burnished blue, not only adds to the beauty of the Majestic, but absolutely eliminates the work, dirt and worry of trying to keep the range looking nice—just an occasional thin coat of paraffin retains its beautiful velvet blue color.

PROGRESS OF THE WAR.

"Allies Lines Holding Firm," is good news from the war front. The gigantic offensive started by the Germans, on a sixty mile front, Sunday night, is hanging fire. The first news of the big offensive created a feeling of apprehension throughout the allied countries.

It was known that weeks of preparation had been made for the effort, and only days of fighting could measure the fierceness of the assault. But from the first day the allies were encouraged. The old energy of the Hun army was wanting, and the strengthened lines of the allies held like walls of stone. After four days fighting the German army has made but a single important advance, and that over a narrow strip about five miles into the French lines. Already despairing of a line-long drive the enemy is breaking its efforts into fragments and attacking what appears to be weak points.

It is claimed that already more than 100,000 men have been lost by the enemy, and that the allies' losses are unexpectedly small. The French and American soldiers are bearing the burden of the fighting upon the part of the allies. No allies' cannon have been lost. Unlike former offensives allied soldiers are making advances into German held territory, and are taking great numbers of prisoners. While it is too early to certainly predict the outcome of the big battle, it seems safe to say that the allies are in no danger of the severe reverses they met in former offensives, and it is not improbable that they may turn the battle into an important victory. The battle is still in progress, and we shall have to wait on events.

THAT WOMAN O' JIM'S

When you live in a house with a woman for seven years you know her, and that's the time I lived at Jim's. Jim and me batched together for three years, and when he married he 'lowed there was room for three, and I stayed.

That woman o' Jim's ain't exactly an angel, but if there was more like her there wouldn't be so many divorce suits and bachelors. Indeed if there was one more, and she'd share the hardships of a miner's shack, I would be a benefactor. I don't know nothing about queens and palaces, but I do know how a woman can make a paradise out of a coal miner's cottage. Nobody ever taught that woman o' Jim's the art of wifehood. It just came to her like the moth to the candle. Nobody taught the mocking bird to mock, and nobody trained the humming bird to hum, and that was the way of that woman o' Jim's.

Being good was just natural with her, and then she loved Jim. She thought he put the arch in the rainbow and the twinkle in the stars. She thought Jim was a God. If somebody thinks a man is a God he will be a God to them as thinks it, and Jim was a God to that woman o' his. Jim wasn't no saint to anybody but that woman o' his. At the mines he could be cross and sullen and ugly, and none of the men didn't like him very much, but he was another man at home. The grime on his face and the grease on his cap looked good to that woman o' his when he come in from his day at the mines. There was beauty in her face, music in her voice and heaven in her eyes, when Jim's heavy foot crossed the threshold. She was modest and quiet, and not given to noise, even over Jim, but she was master over the man. She never nagged nor scolded nor frowned, but knew how to be positive and firm, and yet her manner had all the softness of a babe's and the humility of a saint. At Jim's command she would have laid her neck on the block to be crushed by his heel—she loved him so—and because she would suffer hell for his sake he made a very heaven of her life. She had nothing of that cringing cowardice that invites contempt, but she worshipped Jim. She let him know what she thought was great and noble and good in a man and Jim would a died before he would have shattered her ideal. No, I don't know how that woman o' Jim's made a paradise for two in that miner's cottage, but I do know it was in some way due to the miracle of the woman's love. Such arts are not taught in the schools, and an old bachelor like me ain't fit to draw moral lessons from experiences he did not share, but knowin' how they lived, I can understand how Jim would call that woman o' his his little Wonder Girl.

MARRIED MEN BEING TAKEN IN DRAFT AT LOUISVILLE

Louisville, Ky., July 15.—A large number of married men of Louisville will be inducted into the National Army between July 22 and 26.

There are not enough men in Class "1," composed mostly of single men, to answer the July call for 982 white men from the city of Louisville and ninety men from Jefferson county.

Scores of men have just been "moved up" by the draft boards from the second, third and fourth classes by the reclassification process, and many of them will be needed if the government's latest call is responded to in full.

Draft boards are determined to provide the allotments asked where it can be done without working hardships.

In many cases married men, even with children have to go into the army on the July call where they contribute no more than $30 a month to the support of their families, and where there are sources of income for the family in addition to the husband's salary.

Major Rhodes, at Frankfurt, was communicated with to-day and asked if married men would have to answer the July call, when needed. He said: "Those who have already been reclassified will have to go." Of course, this would apply to those whose reclassification had been finally determined, upon appeal, or without appeal, and who have been pronounced physically fit, or will be, before the quotas go to camp.

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflammation of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Medicine acts through the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Medicine. Circulars free. All druggists, 75c.

MAGAN.

Mr. Louis Sharp is very ill at this writing. He has been sick for some time and his condition has grown worse in the last few days.

GOOD ROADS SAVED FRANCE.

Good roads have twice saved France in the present war. Had it not been for the radiating road system maintained by the French government, the Germans would have won the battle of the Marne and reached Paris. The Germans had calculated on only three divisions being sent out from Paris to stop the invasion. Instead, the excellent system of highways made it possible for five divisions to be sent to this front.

Again, shortly after the battle of Verdun started, the French railroad which was to furnish many of the supplies to the troops was destroyed. The French government, however, had a macadam road thirty-two feet wide on which four lines of traffic, two in either direction, were maintained. Day and night 14,000 motor trucks carried men and equipment.

The traffic never stopped. When a hole was made in the road, a man with a shovel of rock slipped in between the lines of trucks and threw the rock into the hole and then jumped aside to let the trucks roll the rock down.—Farm and Fireside.

Doing Good.

Few medicines have met with more favor or accomplished more good than Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy. John F. Jantzen, Delamere, Sask., says of it, "I have used Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy myself and in my family, and can recommend it as being an exceptionally fine preparation."

OLATON OIL STRIKE.

Drilling operation at Olaton was rewarded with a promising strike of oil, a few days ago. The strike was made at a depth of about three hundred feet. On account of the water in the well it is difficult to determine the volume of oil found, but, we are informed, a very conservative oil operator says the oil found at this shallow depth indicates that when the underlying oil sand is pierced a valuable strike may be looked for. The operators of the well are now casing the water off, and will soon be able to determine the volume of oil found. Oil in quantity amounting to a yield of one barrel a day, at a depth of three hundred feet, is worth while, on account of the trifling expense of drilling and pumping such wells.

Drilling on the Wallace well, near Dundee, is progressing well. The formations found there do not differ materially from those in the field already developed near Hartford, except the stone is softer and less flinty. Anti-clinal conditions in the Wallace well indicates the oil sand will be struck at a depth of from two to three hundred feet less than in the Hartford field.

J. I. GOODMAN'S SON MADE A SERGEANT.

Arthur Ford Goodman, is advancing rapidly in military training. He entered the service May 25th from Louisville and was sent to Ft. Riley, Kansas, and assigned to cavalry, says the Owensboro Messenger. He is now with Troop B, 311th cavalry and has recently been made sergeant of his company. Young Goodman is the son of Mr. J. I. Goodman, foreman of The Herald, and before going into camp was linotype operator on the Courier-Journal.

ROOSEVELT'S SON KILLED.

Quintin Roosevelt, son of the former president, was killed Sunday while engaged in an air battle with German planes behind the enemy lines. In April 1917, before the United States entered the war, young Roosevelt enlisted with the Canadian aviation corps, was commissioned as first lieutenant, and this spring began active service with the American air forces on the French front. The young aviator was returning from a patrol flight when he was attacked by an enemy squadron, and his cousin, Philip Roosevelt, who witnessed his fall, thought that Quintin must have received a mortal wound before his machine crashed to the ground.

SQUIRE MCKINLEY DEAD.

Squire Joe McKinley, a well known and respected citizen of the Bell's Run community, died at his home in the early morning of the 17th after suffering some months from a severe heart trouble. Decedent served the county and his community for some time as Justice of the Peace and was a man of considerable prominence in his section. The remains were buried at Bell's Run yesterday at 11 o'clock by the Masonic Fraternity, after funeral services, conducted by Rev. R. E. Fuqua.

HURT IN RUNAWAY.

Claude Gray and Lawrence Allen were seriously hurt in a runaway accident, near Beaver Dam, Wednesday. Mr. Gray's collar bone was broken and he was otherwise severely bruised. Mr. Allen's ankle was seriously sprained.

The men were driving a pair of recently purchased western horses, to a wagon, when they ran away.

See the new finished MAJESTIC range—sanitary, easy to keep clean, economical, and a beauty. Call at our store this week and let the factory representative explain to you the advantages of the range with a reputation.

MAKE THE GARDEN WORK OVERTIME

If the housewife of America heeds the advice of the United States Department of Agriculture, by fall she will have the shelves of her pantry filled with food from her own home garden, or if she has no space for a garden she will eat both vegetables and fruits in season. In either event her pantry will be full.

"Make the garden work all through the summer and fall, and see that your fall garden plans call for staple storage vegetables like potatoes, onions, beets, squashes and the like," is the injunction of the United States Department of Agriculture. It is easy to can early vegetables, and when canned they are always ready for the table. We suggest that the housewife can peas, corn, carrots, beets, tomatoes, spinach, dandelions and other wild greens.

"Don't fail to gather in season and can the wild things—like wild mustard, cowslip and pokeberries—they are wholesome food."

"The better the garden, the more saved for other comforts."

Canning and garden literature will be furnished free from the United States Department of Agriculture.

Are You One of Them?

There are a great many people who would be very much benefited by taking Chamberlain's Tablets for a week or disordered stomach. Are you one of them? Mrs. M. R. Searl, Baldwinville, N. Y., relates her experience in the use of these tablets: "I had a bad spell with my stomach about six months ago, and was troubled for two or three weeks with gas and severe pains in the pit of my stomach. Our druggist advised me to take Chamberlain's Tablets. I took a bottle home and the first dose relieved me wonderfully, and I kept on taking them until I was cured." These tablets do not only relieve pain but prevent its recurrence.

TO THE TAXPAYERS OF OHIO CO.

Section 5 Chapter 11 of Act 1918 contains the following provisions: "It shall be the duty of the taxpayers of the county to appear at the office of the Tax Commissioner between the dates July 1st and October 31st and furnish said Tax Commissioner a complete list of their property of all kinds and description." Now in compliance with said Act, 1, or one or more of my deputies will be in my office at the court house to serve you. In order to avoid delay and rush please report at the earliest possible date.

Respectfully,
D. E. Ward,
Tax Commissioner.

Cause of Despondency.

BISMARCK RESIDENTS DON'T LIKE TOWN'S NAME

Bismark, N. D., July 15.—Agitation to change the name of Bismark received added impetus to-day when it was found that in the night unidentified persons had obliterated the name on the Northern Pacific railroad station signboard with yellow paint. A six-foot sign, erected near by, read:

"To hell with this blockheaded Hun. What did he ever do for us?"

Several downtown buildings to-day displayed signs which read:

"Change the name of the city to something decent."

LIVER DIDN'T ACT DIGESTION WAS BAD

Says 65 year Old Kentucky Lady, Who Tells How She Was Relieved After a Few Doses of Black-Draught.

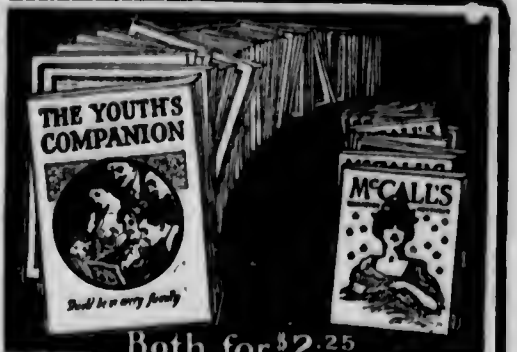

Meadersville, Ky.—Mrs. Cynthia

Higginbotham, of this town, says: "At my age, which is 65, the liver does not act so well as when young. A few years ago, my stomach was all out of fix. I was constipated, my liver didn't act. My digestion was bad, and it took so little to upset me. My appetite was gone. I was very weak. I decided I would give Black-Draught a thorough trial as I knew it was highly recommended for this trouble. I began taking it. I felt better after a few doses. My appetite improved and I became stronger. My bowels acted naturally and the least trouble was soon righted with a few doses of Black-Draught."

Seventy years of successful use has made Thedford's Black-Draught a standard, household remedy. Every member, of every family, at times, need the help that Black-Draught can give in cleansing the system and relieving the troubles that come from constipation, indigestion, lazy liver, etc. You cannot keep well unless your stomach, liver and bowels are in good working order. Keep them that way. Try Black-Draught. It acts promptly, gently and in a natural way. If you feel sluggish, take a dose tonight. You will feel fresh tomorrow. Price 25c. a package—One cent.

Model D

Here's what one man and a Moline Universal Tractor can do in a day of 10 hours:

- Plow 7 to 9 acres; disc 27 acres with a 7-ft. tandem disc; 38 acres with a 10-ft. disc; harrow 76 acres with a 20-ft. post tooth harrow; plant 22 acres with a two-row planter; plant 43 acres with a four-row planter; cultivate from 14 to 20 acres with a two-row cultivator; drill 35 acres with a 10-ft. grain drill; harvest 25 acres with an 8-ft. grain binder; mow 25 acres with an 8-ft. mower; rake 40 acres with a 12-ft. rake; rake 25 acres with an 8-ft. side delivery rake; load 12 acres of hay.

In addition, it can be used on the belt for running threshers up to 24-inch capacity, silo fillers, corn shellers, feed grinders, wood saws, clover hullers, pumps, hay presses, etc.

No end of odd jobs that can be done with the

MOLINE UNIVERSAL TRACTOR

Because of its ideal design, construction and performance, this new Moline-Universal enables one man to farm more land and produce more food than ever before possible. It is the world's most dependable farm hand.

New features include self-starter; electric lights; electrical governor; perfected overhead-valve, four-cylinder engine that is free from vibration; complete enclosure of all moving parts; differential lock which increases traction.

Drop forgings, heat-treated parts, steel cut gears and unusually large bearings add extra years of endurance.

These new features, together with the well known Moline-Universal type—all the weight on two wheels, one-man control and ability to do all farm work including cultivating—make the Moline-Universal Model D the best tractor money can buy.

Conservatively rated at 9-18, the new Moline-Universal has ample power for heavy belt work and can plow as much in a day with two plows as the ordinary three-plow tractor, because of its greater speed. Yet it is light enough for such work as cultivating, mowing, etc., which do not require so much power.

We will be glad to tell you all about this wonderful tractor. The next time you are in town call on us.

LAW'S DIGNITY UPHOLD.

The majesty of the law was thoroughly vindicated in county court here Monday. The offense charged was trifling but the maintenance of the law's dignity may appear in a prosecution for stealing a pin no less than for purloining a tray of diamonds.

Ves Howard, of near town, was before the court on a charge of carrying away and appropriating to his own use about six rods of barbed wire, the property of a Mr. Patton. While taking his cows to pasture last year the said cows would occasionally crop Howard's corn, and to protect his neighbor's crop Patton took some of his own barbed wire and stretched along the road by Howard's corn field. Sometime this summer Howard, who is neither a lawyer nor a philosopher, assuming some sort of right and title to the wire, put it to use on some other part of his farm, whereupon Patton haled him into court.

Howard's attorney valued the wire at about the proverbial "thirty cents" and the attorney for the commonwealth sat steady in the boat on the question of the majesty of the law, and the "majesty" won. The court in a brief but positive opinion directed that the defendant be held to the grand jury, and released him on his own recognizance. Now the question of the further support of the law's majesty is put up to the next grand jury. But grand juries are sometimes a mutton headed lot, and refuse to burden the circuit court with what it regards as trifles. But anyway the majesty of the law is so far vindicated.

When about to buy an article such as a range, that plays an important part in the daily routine of the home, it pays to examine it carefully and be sure you are getting the best range value. A range expert from the factory will, during the week commencing July 22nd, show you how the MAJESTIC is built, why it lasts so long and why it is the best value.

THE EXTINCT HOBO.

The Hobo Americanus is an extinct species. In other words, the tramp gone. The vast number of this tribe at the height of its prosperity may be guessed from the fact that about 5,000 vagrants were killed every year while stealing rides on trains or trespassing on tracks. One sociologist estimates that in the golden age of Hobodom the tramps numbered half a million in the United States.

Two things have helped to make the tramp species extinct. One is the fact that the younger tramp element has gone to war. The second fact is the prevalence of jobs at high pay.

Public opinion no longer tolerates "handouts" to wandering men when work is all too evidently plenty enough to make loafers and pen-handlers the worst slackers. The public was "easy" while men were really unable to obtain work, but when work everywhere actually begs for men the public hardens up considerably. The trouble of living becomes much intensified for the tramp, too, by its high cost. Bread is no longer as free as the air, and the meat for the sandwich filling has become too precious a commodity to give away to men who will not work to get it.

So the era of the tramp passes. And, what is more, the outlook for universal training and plenty of work for all after the war promise that the hobo will be extinct for good and all. The new spirit will hardly tolerate professional slackorism. States everywhere are passing laws compelling able-bodied men to work, whether they have money enough to live on or not. The idler, rich or poor, grates on the burning spirit of to-day. If they won't work of their own initiative, they must be led to it. —Minneapolis Tribune.
